

END OF SHOWING

There is no current technology to automatically determine that a showing has just ended. SentiLock utilizes three solutions to establish that a showing has likely ended. While there are a variety of activities that could potentially indicate a showing has ended, these are not a guarantee.

If the device with the SentiKey app has moved at least .25 miles away, the system assumes that the agent is no longer at the property. Location services must be fully enabled for GPS use or the app must be opened.

If the SentiKey app opens another keybox within 90 minutes, an "End of Showing" notification will be sent from SentiLock.

The showing agent can manually end the showing by tapping the timer icon in the upper right of the app screen and following the prompts. Click HERE for instructions.
